

Apex Hockey is a hockey skills training brand that uses biomechanics, sport science, and on-ice technology to enhance athlete performance. The company has refined its methodology through youth camps across North America and collaborations with NHL teams. Based in Ottawa and Los Angeles, Apex Hockey is comprised of former players and seamlessly blends cutting-edge research, technology, and on-ice expertise to develop the premier athlete performance training program.

Role Description

We are actively recruiting for skills coaches to participate in our upcoming elite youth hockey summer camp on July 5th-6th in Newark, NJ at RWJBarnabas Health Hockey House, the practice center of the New Jersey Devils. This is a part-time on-site contract role. The Hockey Skills Coach will be responsible for conducting on-ice training sessions, developing and executing practice plans, evaluating player performance, and providing feedback to players and parents.

Qualifications

- Strong communication skills to effectively interact with players, parents, and coaching staff
- Expertise in ice hockey and coaching
- Experience in developing and executing training plans
- Ability to evaluate player performance and provide constructive feedback
- Certifications in hockey coaching or related field is preferred
- Bachelor's degree in Sports Science, Kinesiology, Physical Education, or related field is preferred (but not mandatory)
- Must be able to pass a background check

Apex Hockey offers competitive compensation rates, and the ideal candidate(s) possesses a flexible schedule (early mornings, evenings, and weekends). Please note that only local candidates are eligible.

Please send your CV to info@apexhockey.com.