

Director of Hockey - Colorado Extreme (Craig)

We are currently hiring a hockey director who will have the unique opportunity to make an immediate and significant impact on a Colorado community and the lives of its youth. If you've been looking for a career where you can live your passion, where everything matters and brings fulfillment, this might be your job.

We are Colorado Extreme Hockey, one of the fastest-growing hockey programs in Colorado. We are nationally recognized for our unwavering commitment to breaking down financial barriers for families wanting to play the game, and we are excited about the potential for further growth.

We are actively interviewing for a Hockey Director position in beautiful Craig, Colorado, just a short drive from Steamboat Springs, one of the country's premier ski resorts.

This role will be HEAVILY FOCUSED on growing the game:

- Weekly visits to schools promoting our free hockey for learning to play

- 7x per week on ice with learn to skate/learn to play

- the majority of players will be under 10 years old

In addition, you will have the unique opportunity to receive mentorship, coaching, and direction from our newly appointed president and first-overall NHL draft pick, Bryan Berard. His expertise and guidance, along with the collaborative and supportive environment we foster, will be invaluable as we execute our three-year strategy to build a world-class hockey academy near Aspen, Colorado. Thus, the development of our Craig players at the bottom of the pyramid will be critical to the future of our program. We just signed a 3-year lease to run the rink, so you will have unlimited ice time and control over the practice times.

If you're looking for your next dream job or know somebody who is, please get in touch with me at sheldon@coloradoextreme.org. We offer a highly competitive salary and comprehensive benefits package, ensuring job security and a rewarding and stable career in the hockey industry.
